THE TIME FOR THE CONSERVATIVES TO DEVELOP THEIR POSITION.

While Alberta has been visited during the past three months by many members of the Borden cabinet, including Crothers, Roche, Rogers, Hughes and Pelletier, all of whom were alleged to have come bearing a message, the people of the province of Alberta still remain in the dark as to when the Borden government is going to redeem the pledge given by the leader of that party to the west when, previous to the last federal election, he declared that if elected he would not allow 24 hours to elapse before taking action to secure to the western provinces their resources.

This lapse upon the part of the federal cabinet ministers, while it could not have been unintentional, leaves the members of the opposition in the position that they must justify their position before the electors of the province by declaring where they stand upon this matter. Are they satisfied with Mr. Borden's violation of his pledge; or are they prepared to go on record in condemnation of his failure to act?

As public men they must realize that the time has arrived when the matter can no longer be trifled with. The resources of the province are being handled—or rather there is a failure to handle them—in a manner which, entirely aside from the question of their value to the province, is not in the best interests of the province. Notwithstanding that the federal government has millions to spend upon battleships and bonuses, not a vestige of an attempt is shown to explore or develop the north country. The mineral resources receive less attention today than ten years ago. There is no consistent effort to determine the geological and mineralogical possibilities of that larger upper half of the province which must eventually be relied upon for the reciprocal market necessary to make the agricultural sections flourish as they should, nor is there any proper effort to conserve the timber resources of the province against devastation by fire; millions and millions of dollars worth of standing timber going up in flame every year and the settlers' problem being made annually that much harder. Stealthily, but surely, the manner of handling the coal resources of the newer sections of the province is drifting back to that of twenty years ago, enormous areas passing into the hands of corporations who keep the seams sealed against development while the farmers find the price of coal constantly rising and the question of their winter fuel becoming a more and more serious problem.

Meanwhile, the revenue derived from the resources of the province is being directed toward the advertisement through the immigration department of provinces which already own their own resources and which are able to look after the settlement of their own unoccupied areas. These provinces, it happens, send conservative representatives to Ottawa while the provinces toward the development of which the money should be applied but is not sent liberal delegations to the federal capital.

There can be no justification for this action upon the part of the dominion government. It is wrong and the evidence is so plain that it does not even require proof. If the conservatives in the opposition are honestly prepared to stand by their province they will declare against this injustice. If they do not they must accept the onus of placing their fealty to party ahead of their loyalty to their province. The time and the place for them to develop their position on the question is upon the reply to the speech from the throne in the legislative assembly.

THE ANTIQUATED SYSTEM OF CHECKS AND BALANCES.

"There is no claim that the commission plan is a panacea or that the millennium will dawn when we get it," says George Creel, the man who led the Denver and second commission government for that city, "but what we do claim is that it is the next necessary step in the forward march. We will get the fallow dip and the ox cart for the electric light and the railway. Why should we be compelled to stick with a principle of municipal government that was antiquated in the days of the fallow dip and the ox cart?"

Somebody who is opposed to commission government should answer George Creel and tell why the shift-blame system of divided authority and divided responsibility should remain in a day when in every other line of human endeavor except municipal government the principle has been recognized that results can best be achieved where authority is definitely located and responsibility is direct.

Edmonton has handicapped itself with a system which is founded upon the antiquated checks and balances fallacy which presumes that two separate bodies, neither of which can separately be trusted, should, free from the discipline of the recall, be left to fight out between themselves what disposition shall be made of the public's business.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE WILSON DIPLOMACY.

In the announcement of Huerta that an election will be held in Mexico, and that the provisional government of which he is the self-elected head will govern the affairs of the country to whoever is elected, the policy adopted by President Wilson toward Mexico finds at least formal justification, which justification will be made real and tangible if Huerta is found to be as good as his word.

In the midst of all the clamor which has been raised in United States to clamor evidently intended to precipitate an invasion of Mexico, there is the one point which President Wilson has managed to make clear, and that is that his government does not desire the conquest of Mexico. Huerta himself evidently realizes that the preservation of the integrity of Mexico depends upon his ability to re-establish constitutional government, which is all that Wilson has ever asked him to do.

ONE OF THE SARDONIC HUMORS OF THE AGE.

Three employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford have been arrested and will be held criminally responsible for the wreck when the White Mountain express and the Bar Harbor express collided.

In the wreck a score were killed and many injured. The investigation shows that the wooden cars were reduced to kindling, their frailty of construction changing what might have been a minor accident into a massacre. The New Haven had the house of Morgan, with all its millions, behind it, but it was not run for service; it was operated with the primary object of making a market for securities and the wooden cars were an economy intended to make possible the flotation of so much more securities. The New Haven was the underwriter, harvesting riches out of a risk taken on human lives, a risk which was met and paid by the passengers of the Bar Harbor express.

Holding the employees criminally responsible for the death of the passengers constitutes one of the sardonic humors of the age. Why not indict the passengers as well for their criminal negligence in having ridden on wooden cars?

PROHIBIT MARKET HUNTING THE ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

One of the subjects which is certain to occupy the attention of the legislature during the session just commencing and which is as certain to call out a very wide difference of opinion is the proposed alterations of the game law. To those residing in the city the full force of the importance of any alteration in the game law may not be immediately apparent, but to those members whose constituencies are purely rural and especially to those who represent ridings along the northern tier the subject is one which cannot be lightly dismissed.

In all probability the proposal will be made to set the date of the opening of the duck shooting season ahead and the date of chicken shooting back to September 1, so as to make both come in on the same date, and there are other proposals, such, for instance, as the use or prohibition of the pump gun, which are certain to bring out an argument.

In the protection of game Alberta, in comparison with eastern provinces, has not gone far beyond enforcing the laws covering open and closed seasons, which are general everywhere and enforcing a continuous close season for certain classes of birds and animals which were threatened with extermination by all others at some date or other. Producing countries in the world, the necessity for drastic measures have not heretofore existed, but with the steadily increasing population it is evident that if the game is to be preserved some new regulations and new limits to the bags must be established. The logical limitation is to prohibit market hunting, entirely, although it is scarcely probable that the present legislature will be prepared to go this far. Nevertheless, this is the tendency of game laws all over the continent and it is the conclusion which Alberta legislators will ultimately reach in common with all others at some date or other. Upon whether this is soon or late depends to a great extent the preservation of the game.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

The first legislative assembly of Upper Canada was convened by Major-General J. Graves Simcoe, the lieutenant-governor of the newly-created province, 121 years ago today, Sept. 17, 1792. Newark, afterward Niagara, was the seat of the assembly.

At the battle of the Marston, 1813, the British defeated the Americans, and it was there that the two armies gathered for the first time on the banks of the river. The battle was fought on the site of the present city of London, but this plan was abandoned because of the river. Since was dissatisfied with Newark as his capital, however, and soon founded the city of York, afterward Toronto, which became the seat of government in 1793. The first parliament of Lower Canada was held in Quebec on the Dec. 17 following the convention of the Upper Canada assembly. Governor Simcoe, during his four years of power, accomplished wonders for the development of the upper province, which then had a population of only about 50,000. He was among the first to see that another war with the United States was inevitable, and warned the local authorities. He constructed roads through the wilderness for the transport of troops, offered inducements to loyalists still remaining in the States to settle in the province, and in many other ways prepared for what he considered the certainty of war.

Sept. 17 is the birthday of Robert Harris, the Canadian artist, painter of the great picture, "Palmer of Confederation," at Carleton Place, Ontario, 1819; and of Dr. Frank B. Adams, a distinguished educator in Montreal, 1859.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

AVIATION'S TOLL OF DEATH BEGAN FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

This is "Selfridge Day," a day of solemn memories for those bird-men of the air, in the interests of science and humanity, or for sport or money, or sheer dare-devil love for danger, or adventure, in that greatest of modern sports, aviation. Five years ago today, at Fort Myer, Va., the name of Lieut. Wilbur Wright, the name of the man who first made the first flight of a man in a machine, is remembered. Five years ago today, the roll headed by the gallant army officer who was the first martyr to the science of flight has grown into a long list of names, and into hundreds and dozens of lives will be numbered by thousands.

Selfridge is remembered, and dying has been made at least as safe as riding on the trains of the New Haven.

Nearly a year passed after the death of Selfridge before aviation's martyr-roll gained new names. On Sept. 7, 1909, Eugene LeFebvre was killed at Juvigny, France, and in the same day a French aviator was killed at Boulogne. In December A. Fernandez, a Spanish aviator, was killed in the air. His death being caused by the explosion of his motor while in flight.

The year of 1910 witnessed a great increase in the number of aviators, and a consequent increase in accidents. Large numbers were offered for exhibition flights at fairs and exhibitions, and the new profession naturally attracted a class to come. It was the ME renaissance, and there were reckless and daredevil. Leon Delagrè, the French aviator who had been killed in flight with a passenger, headed the 1910 list of victims. He, Leon, Michael, Italy, Johnstone, and a score of others, were killed during 1910.

The 1911 aviation fatality list numbered about 75, and brought the total to the hundred mark. Three aviators were killed in one day, June 18, at Paris. On August 15 Bader and Johnstone were killed in Canada. Not only America and Europe, but Brazil, Peru, Cuba, Algeria and the Philippines were the victims to the world-wide era of flying.

During 1912 the list of dead numbered over 120. On Sept. 14 death had a field day; the list of dead for that date included Wilbur Chambers, at Birmingham, N. Y.; Lieut. Suber at Dresden; Paul Puck at Ciano, and Caramanli, at Patras, Greece. With 1913 the list has gained momentum, and aviation accidents have become of almost daily occurrence.

Very few aviators abandon the profession, despite its obvious dangers, and it is altogether likely that most of the bird-men of today will die with their boots on. Lincoln Beachey, long one of the most daring of the exhibition flyers, may be an exception to the rule, for he recently announced his intention of quitting the game. It was Beachey who invented the "trap of death," the "fish roll," and other hazardous feats, and no less than nine other aviators lost their lives in attempting to improve on these exhibitions.

With constant improvements in the machinery of flying, and with a diminution of public interest in exhibition flights, it is likely that the death roll of aviation will decrease in the years to come. It was the ME renaissance, made possible by a morbid desire to die, and the bird-men to die with death and perfect showmanship. But Selfridge, the first martyr, was not a different stamp. It was not love of glory, but devotion to science, that sent him to his death.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

MARTIN GLYNN, NEW YORK'S ACTING HEAD, 42 TODAY

Martin H. Glynn, the handsome young editor who has lately occupied the limelight as acting governor of New York State, was born in Kinderhook, N. Y., September 17, 1871, just 42 years ago today. When—four years ago today—Glynn was elected to the governorship of New York, he was the youngest man ever elected to that office. He is a Democrat, and his chief opponent, Senator Sulzer, the Lieutenant-Governor, Senator Martin H. Glynn, despite the protestations of Senator Sulzer, announced himself as provisional governor, and since then has accomplished a job of provincial governing that would do credit to that of a diplomat. Sen. Francisco de la Barra.

Mr. Glynn graduated from Fordham University, at the head of his class, in 1894, and immediately embarked in newspaper work on the staff of the Albany Times. He studied law while still occupied with journalistic work, was admitted to the bar in 1897, and in the next year he was elected to one term. He was comptroller of New York State from 1906 to 1908, and in 1909 he was elected to the office of lieutenant-governor. Incidentally, he is of Irish descent.

The Rt. Hon. Bernard Arthur William Patrick Hastings Forbes, eighth Earl of Granard, will pass his thirty-ninth birthday today, having been born on September 17, 1874. The earl, who married Miss Beatrice Mills, daughter of John Mills, of London, is a member of the society of both England and Ireland, and holds a high position at court. He is a Roman Catholic and a staunch home ruler, and in complete sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people, who would welcome him as the lord lieutenant of the Emerald Isle. He was born in Dublin, and has made considerable money, 25,000 acres. Lord Granard has received many foreign decorations, including the Order of the Red Eagle of Prussia, Sweden and Portugal.

Japan's modern educational system is, in large part, a monument to Dr. William Elliot Griffis, who has spent a large part of his long life in striving to bring about a better understanding between the peoples of the Orient and the Occident. Dr. Griffis was born in Philadelphia just three score years and ten ago, on September 17, 1813. He served with the 44th Pennsylvania regiment in the civil war. After graduating from Rutgers in 1839 he went to Japan to organize schools in that country.

Upon the many stages of his marvelous progress. As superintendent of education and later as professor of physics in the Imperial university of Tokio, he left a lasting impress on the educational system of Japan. He has been a member of the great statesmen and diplomats, ambassadors, jurists, scientists and educators. He returned to America in 1874 to prepare himself for the ministry, and has occupied pulpits in Illinois, Boston and other cities, besides writing numerous books on Oriental subjects. Dr. Griffis is a great admirer of the Japanese, and speaks the American feeling against them to the racial prejudice which, through many centuries, has made the two races, and are as much Asian as any other stock on earth.

FIRST THINGS.

TUNNELS

The first tunnel through the Alps, the Mont Cenis or Col de Fréjus tunnel, was formally opened 42 years ago today, when a train of 22 carriages passed through in 29 minutes. The tunnel is a little less than eight miles long, and cost $13,000,000. Plans for the tunnel connecting Italy and France were drawn up in 1848, but their execution was prevented by the war of the following year. The work of excavation was commenced in 1857. The Italians were in charge of the work, but the French government bore the chief expense. The next Alpine tunnel, the St. Gotthard tunnel, was long, was opened in 1881, and in 1881 the Alpine tunnel was inaugurated. The Wasserauf tunnel was completed in 1909, the Simplon in 1905, the Leontenberg was inaugurated this year, and the Most d'Or is now building. The Simplon, 12½ miles, is the longest. The highest railway tunnel in the world, and the one most difficult of construction, is that through the Andes, connecting Argentina and Chile, and was opened in 1910.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

Dr. Whitely submitted a letter to the council in which he recommended that the collector be requested to draw up some sort of an agreement whereby railroads could be prohibited from making such unnecessary noises with their trains within the city limits. The whistling and bell-ringing, he suggested, might not be harmful to some, but in the case of people of nervous temperament or those who happen to be ill, it was a great annoyance. The suggestion of the medical officer of health was well stated and a motion carried that the collector be asked to prepare a bylaw regulating same if such is in order.

Alderman May at the council meeting last night objected to communications being rushed through the council without first having been read by the council. He insisted that if the clerk would not read the communications, he would not vote until he had an opportunity to read them through personally. He asked the mayor what happened to the request for information regarding the doing of the special finance committee and the minutes of the meetings held by the committee. The mayor stated that he was aware of such information but that it had not been properly presented to him. When they were answered, Alderman May then volunteered to meet the mayor tomorrow and see that he gets a copy of the questions which he expected an answer to last night but which did not come through.

A communication from officials of the Methodist and Presbyterian missions, asking the council to oppose the granting of license to a hotel near the old hospital grounds, was referred to the parks committee for investigation and report. It was stated by several of the aldermen that a hotel in this vicinity would be objectionable and the council should send in a recommendation to the license commissioners to this effect.

On motion of Alderman East, the council approved last night the granting of a spur to C. O. Dudley. This spur track will run from the G.T.P. tracks into block 16, crossing the street which will cross Willow avenue. Alderman Livingstone objected strongly to the granting of this spur, saying that his comprehension how the members of council can grant this proposition is simply ridiculous. He contended that a district should be set apart so that those desiring the use of spur tracks in the future would know where to locate without the necessity of having the whole city cut up with spurs. Alderman East pointed out that this is one of the very best sections for such a restricted area as it is in close proximity to two railroads.

A communication from Griesbach and O'Connor, relative to the action of the city of St. Andrew's church in taking action against the city for trespassing on the church property, was referred to the collector who had suggested that it was just a question whether or not it could be established that the ground in question was not highway. He told the council that if it has been used as such for a period of 20 years there would be no difficulty in establishing this fact. The city some time ago built a road around the church property, so the mayor explained, but the public apparently refuse to use this new road and continue to cross the old one, since it is not fenced.

The Northern Lumber Co. requested that the council arrange matters so that a spur might be built from the G.T.P. tracks into their property in Eastview. They state that this matter has been under consideration since last March and still they have been unable to get anything done. The location of the company's mill is at the corner of Cleave and Murray streets. The communication was referred back to the committee for a fuller report together with plans showing the exact location of the spur asked for by the company.

The Edmonton Properties, Limited, submitted a communication to council in which they asked when final arrangements would be made for the extension of the street car line along Sutherland street from First street to Nanayo avenue. This matter is of vital importance to the company inasmuch as they purchased property in this vicinity to the extent of $10,000 on the understanding that this extension would be made in accordance with the decision of last year's council. The communication was referred to the commissioners.

The council approved and adopted the report submitted by the market committee in which it is recommended that Mr. Wheeler, the assistant city architect, be instructed to write up specifications for the main part of the new market building to be erected on the first street site, and that the committee call for tenders for this part of the building as soon as the specifications have been prepared. When the tenders have been opened, the council will be obliged to select of the successful tenderer the price of his tender and the conditions attached thereto.

The college hospital in North Edmonton will be obliged to close if the council or the new hospital board cannot see their way clear to do something for it. The matter was brought to the attention of the council last night by J. D. Hyndman. He stated that such a hospital would be necessary if some aid is not given. The hospital is provided with five beds and has extra facilities for five additional beds. Its close proximity to the parking plants where accidents are liable to happen at any time was given by Mr. Hyndman as the principal reason why this hospital should not be allowed to close. He suggested to the council that one of two things should be done, either take the hospital over and have it managed with the other city hospitals or put an up-to-date hospital on this service to take care of that district. The matter was referred to the hospital board and the recommendation that they meet the hospital officials when convenient the matter.

B. V. McGoslin appeared again last night before the council to ask that the property owners of Ninth street who have offered to put up the cash for the paving of that street. He had secured a petition fully signed and requested that the matter be decided at the meeting last night so that there be no further delay in getting the work started. Alderman Driscoll wanted it referred to the public works committee with power to act. This was opposed by Alderman May who did not favor any committee of council being created to do the work to be done. The collector explained that the petition must first go before the commissioners and be referred to council. The question was finally settled by referring the question back to the committee to bring in a report favorable to the work being done this year. The petition was sent on to the commissioners to handle in the usual way.

PURCHASE OF LOT IS BONE OF CONTENTION IN COUNCIL

Aldermen Vote Against Acquiring it at the Present Time and all the Papers in the Case Will Be Brought to the Table for the Information of the Members.

The purchase of a lot at Wharf avenue and Fifth street last night was the bone of contention at the council meeting last night. A majority of the members present were opposed to the purchase unless funds were first provided. The discussion arose out of a report from the city architect and the city engineer recommending the purchase of the lot for $16,000. At previous meetings of the council the question was considered and a committee of council, on which Alderman Tipton acted, went over and examined the ground. A favorable report was brought in, but at the meeting last night Alderman Smith opposed to completing the purchase without having full information on the table. Alderman Walsh explained that the purchase of this lot was in order when his colleague was in the east. The lot in question is necessary to give a street railway station room to extend the line along Fifth street west.

After a number of suggestions had been made and much time spent by the council in discussing this matter, Alderman Walsh moved and Alderman Calder seconded a motion to the effect that the city collector be authorized to bring down a bylaw for the issuing of tenders covering the purchase price of this lot and that the commissioners be instructed to arrange for the purchase of same. This motion was declared lost, Alderman Douglas, Walsh and Calder voting for the motion, and Alderman Smith, May, Driscoll, East and Livingstone opposing it.

Walsh Motion Carries.
Alderman Walsh then moved that his papers in connection with the purchase of this lot be brought down for the information of the council. This motion was carried after having been seconded by Alderman Douglas. The mayor suggested that the matter be referred to the special finance committee with power to act, as he believed that they could find the time and money to do so. Alderman Driscoll took the ground that it was his duty to refer any of these matters to a committee with power to act, and in this case he was opposed to the purchase of this lot. Alderman Smith moved that the commissioners be instructed to make arrangements for the purchase of the property.

The width of Elizabeth street should remain 66 feet.

This statement was not accepted by Alderman Livingstone. He said that he was back the accusation that Alderman May had not sufficient brains to grasp a proposition properly.

Alderman East clinched the argument between his colleagues by pointing the minutes of last year's council and reading, from the meeting when this matter was decided, that motion not to widen the street was made by Alderman Livingstone himself. "It is as one of the majority in council decline to accept any responsibility in this matter," said Alderman East.

Says Race of Canadian Farmers is Dying Out

Rev. Dr. McDougall, in Address Before Conference of Charities, Says That Rural Communities Are Being Deserted for City.

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—The afternoon and evening sessions of the Canadian conference of charities and corrections now in progress here attracted large attendance and aroused much interest. The afternoon was devoted to the consideration of the "dying out" of the race of Canadian farmers, and John Bradford, community secretary of the Montreal Y.M.C.A., took up the question from the urban point of view, while Rev. Dr. J. McDougall, Spencerville, Ont., discussed the country life problem. Mr. Bradford showed what had been done in one city in the way of helping the commercial unity life, and how a corps of 600 men conversant with the needs of the city had held the balance of power and brought about great reforms. Social centres were established by the churches in that city, home social evenings were developed, the moving picture show was utilized for educational purposes, and much good was done.

Rev. Dr. McDougall, in his address, depicted the rapid deterioration of Canada taking place. The first evil of this was the deserted dwellings, but more important still was the weakening of the rural population of Norfolk county, Ontario, a community of over 20,000 people, had but 3.7 in a household, yet Toronto had five, Winnipeg and Halifax 4.1 and Montreal 3.5. The schools and churches in the country all suffered. The reason for this was the loss of the farm, the result of the farmer by others, and the relative inefficiency on the part of the farmer. Further handicap was protection, Canada was trying to make law suit with marabout fur and small farm-occupied lodge.

Mrs. Short, wife of the mayor, whose law tomorrow will be one of the principal affairs of the opening week, looked particularly well in silver grey suit made with insets of old rose. Mrs. Short's hat was a large black velvet picture shape with deep rose-colored plume.

Mrs. Bixby, who was at the house for a short time, was in black and white striped suit with a small French hat in tulle.

Mrs. McInnes was in a dark purple costume with shadow lace trimmings and small black hat.

Miss Jean McIsaac was in white, white dress with shadow lace trimmings and small black hat.

WANT RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS

Ontario Provincial Synod Says Bible Study Must Be Compulsory.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—The provincial synod of the Anglican church began its business sessions this afternoon. It was presided over by the Archbishop of Ontario, metropolitian. This represents the first gathering of the synod since the Ontario diocese became a separate province. Formerly there was but the one dominion synod. The separate dioceses of Ontario, namely, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Algoma, Niagara and Huron were represented.

In opening the meeting the Rev. L. Norman Tucker, of London, was chosen prolocutor. Further election of officers resulted in the appointment of the Rev. Canon Kilson of Ottawa as deputy prolocutor. Messrs. Farrell and his honor Judge McDonald as assessors, Mr. J. Andrews of the Huron diocese as clerical secretary, J. Nicholson of Toronto as lay secretary, and Messrs. T. Nellen of Toronto and W. J. Ard as auditors.

A memorial was presented by representatives of the Niagara Synod calling upon the provincial synod to take steps at once to see that the government be aroused in an effort to have biblical and religious instruction in the public schools made compulsory.

In the recommendation was made that the synod discuss the matter as a whole, to see whether or not steps be taken at once to induce the government to submit the question of biblical instruction to a vote of the people at a date as early as possible. The Niagara synod also urged that a committee be appointed to co-operate with committees representing all other Protestant bodies with a view towards continuing action along this line, to secure the extension of such teaching in the schools. The memorial was received and held over.

NAVY OFFICERS RUN FOOT RACE

Plymouth, Eng., Sept. 17.—A sprint of 100 yards was run yesterday afternoon by Rear Admiral Sir Robert K. Arbuthnot and Captain Eric Back of the British navy, in fulfillment of a bet made by them 20 years ago, and the captain won by a yard in the excellent time of 12 seconds.

Both officers were serving in the Pacific ocean on board the Warspite, in 1895, when a challenge was given and accepted for a race to be run on the same date 20 years later.

Admiral Sir R. Arbuthnot, now was commander of the Warspite at the time of the wager and was stakeholder today. Rear Admiral Arbuthnot is 49 years old and Captain Back 19.

BRITAIN LEADING U.S. GOLF GAME

Beat American Amateur by One Point in First Day's Play at Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, Mass., Sept. 17.—An English professional and one American amateur divided interest in the first section of the qualifying round of the United States open golf championship played over the course of the country club here yesterday. When the cards of the 18 men playing players were computed at dusk it was found that Harry Vardon of South Heria, England, led with a total of 111 strokes, at 36 holes with Francis Gmelch, of the Woodland club, but one stroke behind for the day's play. After the leaders came a long line of professionals including McDonald Smith, of Kyaki, with 154; the McNamara of the three home bred professionals, with 158, and Louis Teller the solitary French entrant, dividing the honors with A. Campbell, but having cards of 161. C. R. Murray, of Royal Montclair, shared the next place with T. Kerrigan of Indiana and E. W. Longing, of Arcola, with a card of 162.

The gallery of several thousand spectators who gathered early in the day for the opening following Vardon during the forenoon and were well rewarded for the English player held true to his reputation, playing stellar golf during the entire two rounds.

ESKIMOS WILL HOLD A SECRET PRACTICE TONIGHT

New Signals May Be Introduced—Players Show Up Weak on Tackling.

There will be something doing tonight at Diamond park, when Coach White gets his rugby squad behind closed gates to hold a secret practice. Deacon is disappointed at the showing made during the last few nights practice, especially with the tackling of his veterans. Most any of them can do a good tango tackle but even the angles is hardly rough enough on the football field and the coach is afraid some of his men are going to get scratched by the "user" next Saturday if they don't put a little more pep in their play.

A new set of signals may be introduced at tonight's practice and a few new plays.

The officials for the game with Calgary have been selected. They are Prof. Edwards of the university and Rev. Bob Pearson of Calgary.

CALLIES ARE CLOSING IN ON THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat C.P.R. Team by Score of 2 to 1 in Fast Game—Take on Radials Next.

In a good game of soccer played at Diamond park last night the Callies football team took one step nearer the provincial championship by defeating the C.P.R. team by the score of 2 to 1.

Both teams played fast ball until the final whistle blew, but the Callies combination was too much for the rail-rollers.

Collins and Dieck scored the goals for the Calliedon team.

The latter part of this week the Callies will meet the Radials in the final for the shield. This promises to be a good one.

Calgary, Sept. 17.—Calgary's 15 crony defeated the Australians here yesterday afternoon when after mashing 102 runs they got rid of eight of the Australians for less than that score. However, Diamond and Collins got steadiest, and kept up till the Australians had a score of 129. This was the result at the end and the play was good all through. Calgary put up a great fight, and the game was not lost until the last minute. Bell got five wickets for Calgary for 49 runs. Three thousand people, the largest number that ever witnessed a cricket match in western Canada, saw the match. The Australians were entertained at a banquet in the evening.

DAVIS CUP MAY BE SUPPLANTED

Europeans May Also Adopt
New Rules that Would Wreck McLoughlin

Newport, R. I., September 17.—According to a statement credited to an official of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, it is possible that Europeans may offer a world's championship cup that will supplant the Davis cup. It is stated that Henry W. Slocum, vice-president of the national association, when at Southampton, L. I., was asked as to the authenticity of the rumor that the regulations of the Davis cup would be changed so as to put that trophy, so long representing the world's championship, at the same, upon a playing through basis instead of making one of the nations worth to the challenge round, as McLoughlin and the other Americans had done in the recently decided series.

In replying, Slocum stated that he was not aware of any such proposal, but he had feared, however, he said, that the time had arrived when as the cup had come back into the possession of the nation that originally offered the trophy, that the newly instituted international federation of lawn tennis players, to which the English, French, Germans, Belgians and others have subscribed, would offer a trophy that would be emblematic of the world's championship they seek to establish. Slocum said that he believed that was about to be done, and so, without challenge from foreign nations, the Davis cup would become only a matter of history.

From another source it was learned that the future of the American cup has caused some jealousy in Europe. "The Europeans are seeking to standardize the rules of the game," a news service is likely to be adopted compelling the service to be made from a position with both feet upon the ground. Such a rule would wreck the game as played by McLoughlin and other leading Americans. Other drastic rules have been drafted into the code of the federation, especially the one dealing with amateur status of a player, which the Americans refused to adopt at the annual meeting last February.

It is predicted here that unless the Americans join with the federation, the Davis cup is likely to have no more challengers.

Dwight F. Davis, cup commissioner of St. Louis, is the donor of the Davis trophy emblematic of the tennis championship of the world. The trophy is eight feet high.

The origin of the trophy was to promote tennis competition between the United States and foreign nations. In 1900 the word was received that an international meet had been instituted. In that year Dwight F. Davis, himself representing St. Louis-America, was member of the team which won the cup from Great Britain.

In 1902 the United States team was decisively defeated by the United Kingdom. In 1905 America won from France. Spectacularly brilliant was the triumph of Uncle Sam's favorites over Australia in 1906. And so it continued down the line, always eight or nine nations sending their stars to compete for the St. Louis dominion.

In 1911 McLoughlin and D. C. Wright were defeated by Australia. Then came the 1912 tournament, the gloriously bringing the trophy to America soil by Maurice McLoughlin, Norris Williams, Harold H. Hackett and Wallace Johnson.

TRUE FRIEND

An elderly man in a large city died in extremely poor circumstances. A prominent business man, who was known for his mercenary character, attended the funeral and was visibly affected as he looked for the first time on his old friend and associate.

"You thought a great deal of him?" asked the merchant. "Well," said the other, "I did. There was a true friend; he never asked me to lend him a cent, though I knew that he was practically starving to death."—Harpers' Weekly.

To Ease Tight Chest And Cure a Cold Rub on Nerviline

No Remedy Half So Efficient.

"I don't have to suffer long with a sore, wheezy chest. I had a mighty bad cold and it was like a vice, but I knew what to do. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot water and rubbed my neck and chest every half hour during the evening. You would hardly credit the way Nerviline speeded up that chest. It enabled me to breathe like a free man, gave me comfort in a few hours."

This is the experience of J. P. Dunde, a well-known resident of Burton's Corners. In thousands of homes Nerviline is used every day. If a little child has a sick stomach, just a few drops will suffice. If there is any bowel disorder or diarrhoea, only a small dose is required. Inwardly or outwardly, wherever there is pain or inflammation, Nerviline will always relieve quickly and cure surest of any remedy known. ## SLIM DELL IS PLAYING GREAT BALL AT SEATTLE

Pitches Two Shut-out Games in One
Week—Allowed Six Hits and No
Runs in 19 Innings.

"Weiser Dell went back at the Spokane Indians again yesterday," says the Seattle Times, "and shut them out for the second time in a week. He dedicated the ball park in the right way last Tuesday by having the better of a duel with Phil Douglas winning 1-0 in ten innings and allowing Mike Lynch and his gang only two hits. He had the same kind of a hop on his fast ones yesterday and again sent Mike and his men to their fodder without a run. He was touched for four hits no two of which came in one inning and he bled them with ease. He has won nineteen innings he pitched against 19 innings he pitched against Spokane without allowing a run in one week. Dell looked like his early season form yesterday for he had control and speed and curves and had he kept up that lick all season the Seattle team would right now be battling Vancouver for the lead. Dell never was in danger."

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1904—Jim Jeffries defeated Hank Griffin in four rounds at Los Angeles. Hank was a very big, tough, and smoke who later whipped Jeff, he was a gentleman. Although Jeff was declared the victor in that four-round affair, honors were pretty even, and Hank won a thousand dollars offered by the champion to any man who could stand before him for four rounds. During the course of the fight Jeff was knocked down by Hank twice. Jeff made Jeffries somewhat peevish, and for the remainder of the bout Hank showed signs of being a little better. The big man's wild blows. Griffin tried in vain to set a match with Johnson, after the latter won the title, but Jack wisely avoided the multi-bloater. Griffin died a year or two ago.

SPORTOGRAPHY

SHORTEST 9-INNING GAME
PLAYED IN 31 MINUTES

A baseball record that is likely to remain permanently in the dope books was established three years ago today on the Southern league lot in Atlanta, Ga., when Atlanta defeated Miami, playing full nine innings, in exactly 32 minutes. This is the briefest full game on record by a full ten minutes. The nearest approach to it was made a year ago at Birmingham, when the local club of the New York state league and the Albany team rushed through a contest in 42 minutes.

In September, 1894, Atlanta was the scene of another hurry-up contest, when the Crackers and Shreveport pulled off a pastime in 41 minutes. Back in 1884 by the Bayton and Ironton, O. clubs. It is a coincidence that all but one of these exceptionally rapid games were played during the month of September. The time record for a double-header of two full games was hung up in 1907 at the Oakland and Los Angeles clubs of the Coast league, doing the trick in 104 minutes. The first pastime in 47½ minutes, and the second in 51 minutes, the two contests requiring one hour and thirty-eight and a half minutes.

William Paque, the well known grocer, and also a writer, states, slams, punches and staple and fancy groceries, will pass his twenty-seventh birthday today. Billy made his mind debut at Spring Valley, Ill., and is of German descent. His father was a coal miner, and Billy followed in his footprints, spending his leisure time above ground in boxing and playing pool. He was a very good player, and his "money fight" was pulled off at the winner's cost, $125. This looked like big money to the country boy, and he determined to stay in the game.

He fought his way to the top of the middleweight heap, but lost his title to Stanley Ketchel.

1913—Salie, Ill., and Billy, who was then 19, received $5 for being a Mexican. A little later he was matched with the village boy, or Bogia, and lost "money fight" was pulled off at the winner's cost, $125. This looked like big money to the country boy, and he determined to stay in the game.

One of America's Institutions

The Anheuser-Busch plant covers today more than 142 acres—equal to 70 city blocks. It gives steady employment to 6,000 people, and to 1,500 more in its branches. Every process, every room, is immaculate.

Every bottle is Pasteurized and inspected. This Quality-Plant, started nearly 50 years ago, is a model of modern facilities. The hundreds of visitors who go through every day know that nothing of its kind could be made any better than Budweiser.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

SITUATED at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechaco Rivers in Central British Columbia, 450 miles north-east of Vancouver, B.C., and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, B.C., or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alta., on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific Province of the Dominion, and has therefore long been the expectations of the general public that, upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important centre.

Having purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve, No. 1, for the purpose of locating a townsite thereon, the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company Limited has caused the same to be surveyed and platted and will offer lots in this townsite for sale by public auction at Vancouver, British Columbia, Wednesday, September 17th, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, September 24th, 1913.

The terms of this sale will be one-quarter cash and the balance payable in one, two and three years with six per cent interest. For further particulars and plans apply to:
